

TAMMY THEIS

Starting 2018 right with our first #FGIDallas #MemberMonday of the year: Tammy Theis, the owner of Wallflower Management. Wallflower is known as the first boutique modeling agency in Dallas. Since 2009, Wallflower Management has been scouting models that end up working in major fashion markets like New York, Paris, Tokyo, London among others. Tammy has a degree in Journalism from the University of North Texas. She worked for The Dallas Morning News for 21 years covering the local fashion scene and runway shows in major fashion cities. TINA PETERS

Tina Peters is the proud owner of fashion label Faith Diva, which was started in 2008. It wasn't until after the sudden death of her husband in 2010 (when she found herself raising their two sons alone) that she realized her purpose. Faith Diva not only became a way for Tina to supplement her income, it also helped her work through her grief. Spending countless hours in her studio she began to reflect on what was really important in life. Since then Faith Diva has become a platform for her to share her testimony and encourage others. Tina believes that religious jewelry and apparel doesn't have to be identified by the fact that you are wearing a cross or a prayer box. It is about what that piece represents to you spiritually. Faith Diva understands that a woman's fashion should reflect her style and her image. Every woman has been blessed with a special purpose and gift and she should walk into her blessings with poise, grace and confidence. KRISTIN SMITH

Kristin Smith and Co-Founder Diamond Mahone started The CLAD Life with a clear objective to speak to their clients with a unique but well defined perspective. Both having an extensive background in styling celebrities, athletes, and public figures -- they wanted to extend their niche services to anyone looking to elevate their wardrobe needs and or overall appearance by offering a diverse viewpoint and a variety of talent. The CLAD Life is a full service styling collective offering a range of services encompassing personal aesthetics styling. A focus is heavily placed on bringing out individual style while creating a unique signature look for each client or project. "There is no rules, no measurements -- there is no ceiling to fashion," Kristin said. "I listen to my gut and trust my experience and never want to stop pushing the envelope or growing. Fear can't exist." Learn more about Kristin and The CLAD Life by following on social media @TheCladLife and by visiting her website here: <http://thecladlife.com/>

CHARMAINE MARSHALL

FGI Member Monday highlights local jewelry designer Charmaine Marshall! After 20 years of selling fine jewelry and fashion accessories at luxury retailers, Charmaine Marshall is turning heads with her own bold and daring collection of jewelry designs. Her clients are the center of attention when they wear Charmaine's eye-catching bracelets, necklaces and earrings. This "wearable art" is anything but understated. Her hand-crafted designs draw on the colors and textures of nature -- incorporating rare stones, feathers, wood, antique African brass, coral and other exotic elements. Charmaine's ability to tastefully blend rough-hewn materials into fine jewelry worthy of a museum display case is founded, in part, on her extensive industry background, which includes certifications from the Gemological Institute of America in Diamonds and Diamond Grading. Her expertise was complemented by years of customer service at leading retailers such as Tiffany & Co., De Beers Diamond Jewellers, William Noble and Neiman Marcus, where she learned the jewelry market from the perspective of a discerning clientele. Her talent as a creator of exquisite jewelry was recognized in 2011 when she was a Top 10 Finalist in the Texas' Next Top Designer competition. Follow Charmaine by visiting her site charmainemarshall.com or by social media on @charmainemarshalldesigns
