Things to Know about the Fashion Flash Trend Forecast

- * It is produced twice yearly after the runway shows of Paris, Milan & New York
- * Fashion journalist Marylou Luther gives creative direction for the Trend Forecast. Luther has been writing and reporting on fashion for over 50 years.

How are FGI Trend Forecasts different to other Trend Reports?

- * FGI Trend Forecasts are the only reports which represent an industry viewpoint in a concise, 50 minute presentation.
- * The trend selection process involves a team of profile industry decision makers including:
BLOOMINGDALES
IN STYLE
NEIMAN MARCUS
VOGUE

Who would benefit from the FGI Fashion Flash presentation?

- * The presentation is perfect for the senior business executive who does not travel regularly, but wants to remain informed.
- * Suited to the organisation where only a certain level of management travels.
- * Works well in an organisation that sees benefit in the next layer of staff having access to this concise information.
- * In-house presentations can be arranged. These are a convenient and cost-effective way for a company to present to a large group, in the convenience of their own offices.
